H. GROUNDS OF APPEAL

The grounds are set out in the box below

Mrs S Joseph shares the house with her daughter and three children who help her run the agricultural holding. In the near future, Mr Joseph's elderly mother will need to move into the property meaning that there are four generations under one roof. The house at present has three bedrooms and the proposal which would not change the footprint of the building would allow for an extra bedroom which is essential to allow for the occupants' needs. We do not believe that this proposal in any way affects the functional need nor adversely affect the continued viability of maintaining the property for its intended use. The design of the first floor extension follows the guidelines laid out by the Vale of Glamorgan Planning Department and is subservient to the main roof. Therefore it does not adversely alter then scale, form and character of the original dwelling and does not detract from the character of the wider rural area.

Do you intend to submit a planning obligation (a section 106 agreement or a unilateral undertaking) with this appeal?

Yes

No
