Dear Mr Jones

In response to your question regarding the number of objections received, there is no list that I can produce. On our system I can see that there are over 110 received so far, though the actual figure may be higher as more have recently been received. Ultimately, the Committee Report will state the number of objection letters received and highlight the main issues. We will also include some of the letters/emails as examples that the Committee Members will see in full. You can organise to come to the planning office to see the objection letters if you wish – please let me know if this is the case.

Thank you for your comments submitted for this application.

Regards
