Comments	Comment submitted by Pamela Drke: I object to these late variations, I have concerns about whether this fire tank is sufficient for this plant and the relocation of parking. What evidence do we have that the size of this tank would meet the needs should a fire or ignition take place. I object to this variation at the latter stages of this construction, this vital parts of this plant should have been in the original plans, not a variation a long time down the line when the construction is nearly complete. The reallocation of parking is another matter that I feel is another reason why I object to this variation, there has to be sufficient areas for parking by the workforce and visitors, these need to be in a safe and easily accessed area.
