Youth teams provide great entertainment in Cup game

IN poor playing conditions, Bridgend Athletic Youth and mid-Wales side Cobra Youth defied a gluepot pitch to produce an attractive keenly-contested Welsh Youth second round Cup tie which, until the closing minutes, could have gone either way.

With Cobra leading 8-7 at half time, it took two late tries and the three excellent touchline conversions from Bridgend Athletic's man-of-the-match Evan Dedano to put the Ath through with a 21-8 win.

An excellent early run from Ath wing Josh Stephens took play from inside his own half into the Cobra 22, but the away defence recovered to end the threat.

With wind advantage it was Cobra's outside half Iestyn Price who converted a penalty to give the visitors a 3-0 advantage.

The Ath responded from the restart, applying pressure inside the Cobra 22 resulting in a very kickable penalty. The Ath, however, chose to back their driving maul with a kick to the corner. This enterprise was rewarded when Archie Brent – a revelation on the day – was the player in possession as the maul crossed the Cobra try line. Dedano made light of kicking from the touchline against the wind with a well-directed low skimming conversion.

Just ahead of half time the Ath were reduced to 14 players following a yellow card line out offence. The Ath withstood the Cobra five-metre driving maul from the penalty. However, the clearance kick was gathered 30 metres out by Cobra wing Josh Evans who sped along the touchline to cross in the corner to give his side an 8-7 lead.

The Ath applied early second half pressure, but Cobra's determined defence held out. The Ath then duplicated their first try with Jacob Perkins driven over the Cobra try line. Dedano was again on target from the touchline to put the Athletic 14-8 ahead.

Ath centre Lochie Barron was held up over the try line, with the same fate for the Cobra wing at the opposite end of the field as both sides took turns to attack. Cobra then suffered a yellow card for illegally stopping an Ath attack.

In the closing minutes a series of Ath thrusts drew in the Cobra defence and when Dedano threw out a long pass, outside half Sam Matthews stepped inside and had the strength to break a tackle and cross for the third Ath try and finally put the tie to bed. Dead eye Dedano added the extras to put the Ath through to round 3 after an excellent advert for Youth rugby.

Ath coach Dylan Ashpole summed up: "The back row today was excellent with the forwards refusing to take a backward step against a bigger Cobra pack. Special mention goes to scrum half Evan Dedano who took responsibility on the day and his excellent game management, as well as three difficult conversions, made him the day's outstanding player."

Well done to Cobra for playing their part in the game and helping create a great post-match atmosphere from both sides in the clubhouse later, with mementos of the occasion presented by both sides.

The Ath 1st XV won a friendly 29-10 at Pontardawe, and the Ath Generals won a home Ospreys Conference game 27-10 against Dunvant to complete a treble for the Ath.
